

Name: _____ Hour: _____

Grammar Ditto

MUG SHOT PARAGRAPHS 66

Popcorn—An All-American Snack

There's many different types of corn, and popcorn is one of the oldest, it looks alot like other corn, but it's kernels are more smaller and harder then the other types. Inside the hard outer shell are a mass of moist starch. When the kernel is heated. The shell bursts and the starch puffed out. Popcorn is native to both north and south America. It was used by native americans for food and decoration and in religious ceremonies. Thousand's of years before europeans arrived in the americas. According to legend the puritans ate bowls of popcorn at the first thanksgiving and ever since than it has been 1 of our most popularest snack foods.

tally box: #wrong 29

--